

Welcome!

Here are a few suggestions to help you make the most of your experience.

Relax and Enjoy

This is your special date with your child each week. Have fun! Remember, there's no right or wrong way to do the activities. See what the moment brings, then explore freely!

Honor your Child

There is a large range of developmental abilities in a class, and no two children are going to participate in the same way. Our studio is a place where everyone can come without pressure to perform. It is normal that some children may prefer to watch during class or roam about, but remember, you and your child are in a musical environment and loving fellowship, so s/he is learning more than they may let on.

Model Playfulness!

The children are watching us to see what creativity and playfulness look like in a gathering such as this. Okay, so you might feel silly at first, but jump in, sing out, and dance about! After all, you are your child's most important teacher.

Enjoy Music at Home!

Music and movement at home will make a BIG difference in your child's development AND in your child's enjoyment of the class. Play your CD. Try some of the activities. Have fun! Your child's enjoyment of music and movement at home is the most important thing.

Attend Class Regularly

You are important members of our class, and we miss you when you are not here. The more consistently you attend, the more progress you'll see in your child. If you can't come, please let us know. Feel free to attend another class as a make-up. Each family is offered 2 to 3 make-ups in the fall and spring semesters; one in a summer session.

Questions, Concerns, or Compliments (!)

Please feel free to let me know if you have questions or concerns, or ideas about how I might improve the program. I also welcome your feedback about what you like (!) about your classes. We welcome your call or email!

Thank you for joining us!

We look forward to seeing you in our class each week!
